Whole Body Wellness

LED Light therapy offers a wide range of health benefits, from reducing inflammation and the impact of oxidative stress on the skin and underlying tissue to boosting the body's natural healing ability.

CONTOUR is one-of-a-kind

Celluma CONTOUR is the only device on the market FDA cleared for Body Contouring, Aging Skin and Pain Management in a single device.

Included FDA Cleared Treatments	RED 640	NIR* 880	BLUE 465
Contour	●	●
Aging Skin	●	●	●
Pain	●	●	●

*Near infrared light is not visible to the naked eye.

The body contouring treatment mode contains red (640nm) and near infrared wavelengths (880nm). The wrinkles and aches and pains treatment modes contain a combination of blue (465nm), red (640nm), and near infrared (880nm) wavelengths. Each treatment mode is a proprietary algorithm that produces the correct combinations of wavelengths and dose (fluence) that deliver the results supported by clinical studies.

LED Light Therapy For Body Contouring

What is LED Light Therapy?

Originally researched and developed by NASA, LED low-level light therapy, also known as photobiomodulation, is the application of light energy to the body to obtain therapeutic benefits. Just like plant photosynthesis, light produces a natural biochemical reaction within us, stimulating our cells and mitochondria to produce more energy (ATP). Increased cellular energy has a wide range of beneficial applications across many medical fields that include skin care, hair growth, pain management, body sculpting, wound healing, and more.

What is Light Therapy for Body Contouring?

A clinically proven, non-invasive technique to reduce the circumference of the hips, waist, and thighs safely and effectively.

How does it work?

Red and near-infrared light stimulate adipocytes (fat cells), creating temporary pores in the cell membranes. During treatment, fat lipids empty out of the cell into the interstitial fluids of the body, which are then excreted through the body's normal metabolic processes.

The result is a slimmer you!
